What can parents/caregivers do to help?

- Get smart about youth substance use and the dangers of illicit fentanyl
- Speak to your kids about the dangers of drug use including illicit fentanyl, how to avoid use, family expectations around use, and the availability of help and support
- Learn to recognize potential signs of substance use, trauma, and mental health symptoms so individuals can access support as early as possible
- Use non-stigmatizing language around substance use – this makes it easier for people to seek help when they need it
- Learn about naloxone \(Narcan\) and consider stocking it in your home as part of your home medication safety plan

What can youth do to help?

- Get smart about opioids and the dangers of illicit fentanyl. Other drugs (like fake prescription pills or marijuana) can be laced with fentanyl so people may not even know they're taking it. Very small amounts can lead to a deadly overdose.
- Learn how to support friends and family when you are concerned about their mental health or substance use. Showing you care and helping people get connected to resources early can save lives.
- Use non-stigmatizing language around substance use – this makes it easier for people to seek help when they need it.
- Learn about naloxone \(Narcan\) and spread the word about this life-saving, emergency medication.
